

Pouls pour des Solutions
Humaines

Fundamental training in Crisis Zone

The Inalienable Fundamental Human Rights Diploma

September- December 2025

Since 2011 and the militarization of conflicts in Libya, Syria and Yemen, we tried as Human Rights trainers and Professors in specialized HR Institutes, to form and educate many jurists, para jurists and Lawyers on:

- Legal Basic for HR Defenders practice in Crisis Zone
- Practical Guide to Humanitarian Law and Civilian Protection
- Jurists and the Inalienable Fundamental Human Rights

We organized in Geneva, Cairo, Paris, Antalya, and Amman... A long term or short term training for more than 200 Lawyers, Jurists, trade-unionists, humanitarian actors and Human Rights defenders. Many experts of CICR and OHCHR participated in our Programs.

Unfortunately, after The Covid 19 and since the beginning of war in Ukraine, the Genocide in Gaza and the fall of the Syrian regime many new type of violations appeared and many human rights defenders and lawyers ask us for a new actualize training.

In general, and in our previous experiences, one of our institutions and non-governmental organizations organizes the administrative, logistical and financial budget, and university professors and specialized institutes participate with us in providing the adapted program with the daily needs of the actors.

As for the practical implementation, it depends on an initial workshop to assess the needs of participant's, then distance 3 months education, and finally an evaluation workshop before each participant writes a memory on one of the training topics.

The program is supervised by Haytham Manna, a university professor who holds a doctorate in social sciences and medicine and a master's degree in international law. He has carried out more than sixty investigation missions in various countries of the world, more than half of which are in areas of armed conflict, and he has trained 4,200 male and female students between the years 2009-2022. Director of the 'Short Universal Encyclopedia of Human Rights'. Recipient of the Human Rights Medal from the National Academy of Sciences - Washington.

In general, our Training Team and specialized Institutes and NGOs, organize the administrative and logistic and financial Budget, We ask universities and specialized Institutes for the training program: Distance education via zoom and physical workshops.

Initial program

The Inalienable Fundamental Human Rights

By inalienable human rights we mean: human rights that cannot be suspended, excluded or may be violated in any country and any time in the world: e.g.: Exceptional circumstances, such as declaring a state of emergency, a state of war, or internal or international armed conflicts.

- 1- This country is a member of the United Nations, ratified the International Bill of Human Rights and relevant international covenants.
- 2- International humanitarian law remains applicable even in situations in which one or more parties to a conflict may not be represented among the States party to the Conventions.
- 3- The principals of civilian protection must be respected (GCI–IV Common Art. 3¹; API Art. 4).

Protection of human rights in International Law in Crisis Zone:

First section: the system of international law for the protection of human rights

First: Definition and application of international law for the protection of human rights in Crisis.

Second: Committees concerned with the international protection of human rights (contractual mechanisms)

Third: Procedures to protect human rights (non-contractual mechanisms)

Section Two: International Humanitarian Law

First - Definition of international humanitarian law

Second - Sources of international humanitarian law

¹ Article 3 offers an international minimum protection to persons taking no active part in hostilities, including members of armed forces in certain situations specifically stated in the article. Humane and non-discriminatory treatments are two important protections offered under this provision.

Section Three: Distinction and complementarity between international humanitarian law and international law for the protection of human rights especially:

- Physical and Mental Integrity as Inalienable Fundamental Human Rights
- Disappearance and Arbitrary Detention
- forced or involuntary displacement
- The right to Human security
- Discrimination crimes, authorities' responsibility and legal prosecutions to reduce them
- Displaces and Refugees in Humanitarian International Law
- Environmental disasters and the right to health
- Fair court before the various ordinary or exceptional courts and the right of defense
- Guarantees of The fair court: Judgment pronounced by a regularly constituted court, affording all the judicial guarantees which are recognized as indispensable by civilized peoples.
- National and International Accountability

Registration:

1- Anyone wishing to register should write to:

sihrfhm@gmail.com

2- Include a brief CV in the message.

3- Anyone living in a country experiencing a crisis (Syria, Libya, Yemen, Sudan, Iraq, etc.) is exempt from the registration fee.

4- The diploma registration fee includes 200